HOT SOCIAL PACE OF WEEK TOO FAST FOR LATIN AMERICA Many Visitors Forced to Drop Out of Program of Riot and Good Times.

One of the most brilliant weeks of entertaining in the history of Washington was brought to a close last night after a round of festivities in honor of the delegates to the second Pan-American Scientific Congress.

So strenuous, in fact, has been the social pace, the past week that here and there popped up reports of indispositions as a result. It was freely remarked, yesterday, that many women, members of the families of the Latin American visitors to the capital, were obliged to excuse themselves.

There, were, in honor of the distinguished visitors, during the week, twenty dinners, seven large receptions, three large tea receptions, five luncheons, a breakfast, a smoker and a theater party. Today there is to be a drive through Rock Creek Park, the Zoological Park, Arlington and Chevy Chase.

At Pan-American Building.

The climax of entertainment, which will continue on a similar scale this week, came last night at the Pan-American Union Building. A large reception was given in honor of the visitors by the governing board of the Pan-American Union. Preceding this, reception, dinners were given by Frederic C. Delano, at the Metropolitan Club, and by Mrs. Francis H. Moran, at her home, 2215 Massachusetts avenue. A dinner to have been given by the assistant secretary of state, William Phillips, was postponed.

Earlier in the day a breakfast was given by Charles Henry Butler at 1525 I street northwest. This took place at noon. Mr. Butler invited to meet his other guests Cesar D. Andrade of Ecuador, Dr. Eduardo Sarmiento Laspari of Argentina, Dr. Alberto Gutierrez of Bolivia, Dr. Jose Rodriguez de Costa Doria, Dr. Simoes de Silva and Dr. Manuel de Oliveira Lima, all of Brazil, Dr. Alejandro Alvarez of Chile, Dr. Rafael Maria Angulo of Cuba, Dr. Ricardo J. Cruz of Peru, Dr. Carlos Alberto Ucles of Honduras, Dr. Angel Caparo of Peru and Dr. Alonso Reyes Guerra of Salvador.

Edson Bradley's Open House.

Following this breakfast, Edson Bradley and Mrs. Bradley were at home at their home on Dupont Circle. The function, beginning at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, and continuing until after 7 o'clock, gave the guests their convenience in selecting a time for their visit and to view the collection of curios which Mr. and Mrs. Bradley have spent years in gathering from all quarters of the globe.

Their home is in many respects one of the handsomest in the capital. Its furnishings, and in some instances its walls, have been assembled from all sorts of out-of-the-way places in Europe. The long corridor on the second floor, running parallel with Connecticut avenue has a carved oak ceiling, dark and mellow with age, brought here from Europe.

where it had been set up in an eleven century palace.

Mr. Bradley and some of the women assisting Mrs. Bradley showed the guests along the corridor facing Connecticut avenue mullioned windows set with insets of rare old stained glass which were taken from ancient churches and cathedrals, and chairs which were used by bygone kings, dukes and other grandees.

Entire House Open.

Usually Mr. and Mrs. Bradley entertain at teas and other large gatherings in the big ballroom, at one end of which is a stage for theatrical entertainments, and which has its own separate entrance on 19th street. But, yesterday afternoon the whole house was in use.

There was opportunity, enjoyed, too, in fact, by many Washingtonians for the first time, to see wonderful old carvings. Off the big corridor is a small drawing room from which opens overlooking the busy thoroughfare of Connecticut avenue.

Retaining the glamour of past history, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley's visitors found the carvings redolent of the incense which for centuries was burned about them, and many of the Latin Americans present declared that by entering the little chapel they were carried across the ocean to the old world or to some of their own cathedrals of antiquity.

Mrs. Bradley welcomed her guests in a gown of black gauze, embossed with silver. She was assisted in receiving by Mme de Suarez, wife of the Chilean ambassador, president of the congress; Mme de Gama, wife of the Brazilian ambassador; Mme de Pena, wife of the Uruguayan minister, and Mme de Pena; Mme. Pezet, wife of the Peruvian minister; Mrs. Robert Lansing, wife of the Secretary of State; Mrs. Mahlon Pitney, wife of Justice Pitney of the Supreme Court; Mrs. Philip Sheridan, Mrs. Robert Patterson, Miss Patten, Miss Sherrill and Miss Sheridan.

In addition, about twenty debutantes of the Washington season, among them the most attractive of the capital's younger set, aided in making the afternoon agreeable for those invited.

The tea table was presided over by Mme. Kline, wife of the Spanish ambassador; Mrs. Sheridan and Miss Sherrill. New Year toasts were drunk in evening.

Cosmos Club Entertains Men.

Another reception of the afternoon was one at the Cosmos Club, a stag affair, tendered by the president and officers of the club, to the men members of the congress, from 3 to 6 o'clock.

The dinner given by Mr. Delano was also for men, and was given at the Metropolitan Club. He invited to meet his friends Dr. Ernesto Quesada of Argentina, Dr. Cristobal Hicken, also of Argentina; Dr. Rodrigo Octavio of Brazil, Alejandro Alvarez and Dr. Enrique Soro of Chile, Dr. Eduardo Pineres of Colombia, Dr. Rafael Maria Angulo of Cuba, Dr. Cesar D. Andrade and Dr. Francisco Manrique of Ecuador, Dr. S. Cesar and Luis F. Corea of Nicaragua, Dr. Carlos A. Bellure and Dr. Adolfo R. Garcia of Uruguay, and Andres Ibarra of Venezuela.

Mrs. Francois Berger Moray invited to dinner at her home the Peruvian minister and Mme. Pezet, former ambassador to Berlin and Mrs. David Jayne Hill, Mrs. Gillett-Hill, Gen. Nelson A. Miles, U. S. A., retired; Capt. Francis M. Barber, U. S. N., retired; Dr. Tullio Acosta and Miss Guerda of Costa Rica, Dr. Bascanan of Chile, Dr. Julio Tello and Senora Tello of Peru, and the following other members of the Peruvian delegation: Mr. Deustua, Jr.;
